Trip Overview

The Cetina river is Dalmatia's top adventure sports scene. The rushing rapids, waterfalls and winding canyons have made it the most popular area for active adventures. Cycling, rafting, canyoning and zip line adventures in the protected areas of the Cetina river attract adrenaline seekers and nature lovers every year. The calm parts of the river allow you to bask in stretches of scenic Croatian countryside and the second and third grade rapids enable a three-hour rafting adventure that is suitable for beginners and enjoyed by experienced adventurers alike.

Before embarking on your adventure, your experienced guide will go over all of the safety information and provide you with the necessary equipment.

Whether you choose a white-water rafting adventure or prefer to go canyoning with a guide while navigating your way along the river to discover waterfalls and natural pools, zip lining across the river is an additional adrenaline boosting activity that presents unforgettable birds-eye views on the rapids below.

If you decide to stay dry and embark on a cycling adventure instead, you will get a chance to explore the Dalmatian hinterland by cycling through rugged natural paradise and along rustic villages.
